

SeattleNanny.com Named Finalist of BBB Torch Awards

Seattle Nanny Network, Inc honored for its dedication to integrity and ethical business practices in Washington

Kirkland, Wa. – Oct. 28, 2021 Seattle Nanny Network, Inc has been named as Medium Business Finalist of the Year for the 2021 Better Business Bureau Torch Awards for the state of Washington.

The Torch Awards for Ethics is the most prestigious honor Better Business Bureau Great West + Pacific (BBBGWP) bestows on businesses and charities operating within its eight-state service area. Winners and finalists are selected based on their commitment to their organization's character, culture, customers, and community.

"We were thrilled to receive more than 300 Torch Awards submissions this year from businesses and charities alike," said Tyler Andrew, President and CEO of BBBGWP. "It was truly inspiring to learn how each business makes a daily commitment to not only uphold ethical business practices, but also embody the true meaning of integrity. We hope this recognition helps the winners and finalists stand out in their local communities and encourage more businesses to operate with those same principles."

Established in Seattle in 1997, Seattle Nanny illustrates their commitment to the community by volunteering countless hours with domestic workers labor rights organizations, in an effort to lift the work and the people who do it.

"The pandemic has thrust the need for care into the national conversation in ways we have not seen in our lifetimes" says Emily Dills, founder of Seattle Nanny. "If we don't protect the workers who provide care, we won't have a labor force to take care of our children, homes, and elders. This work can never be automated. From where we sit, in one of the tech capitals of the world, we are reminded of this daily. Care is not transactional. Its human. And the workers who do it have made significant sacrifices. Protecting them and the families they serve is what drives us as a company."

BBBGWP serves more than 20 million consumers in Alaska, Central Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, and Western Wyoming. Torch Awards winners from each state were announced as part of a virtual ceremony held on Oct. 28.
